Boy Scouts Camp at Ferguson Enterprises to Support the “Campaign for Timeless Values”

NEWPORT NEWS, Virginia (February 18, 2006) – Members of the Boy Scouts of America, Colonial Virginia Council, stood vigil over a campfire at Ferguson Enterprises in Newport News, Virginia, on Friday, February 17, 2006, to kickoff the “Campaign for Timeless Values.” The fires, which took place throughout the ten cities and 11 counties that the Colonial Virginia Council serves, were designed to let the public know about the campaign, which includes building a new Scout Reservation in Middlesex, Virginia.

Through the generous support of Ferguson Enterprises, Scouts and adult volunteers leaders manned the fire from approximately 7:00 p.m. until just before midnight, at the intersection of Jefferson Avenue and Bland Boulevard at the headquarters of Ferguson Enterprises. Ashes from the campfire at Ferguson Enterprises, were mixed with ashes from the former Scout Camp, Camp Chickahominy, as well as ashes from fires around the Council. Once the Scout Reservation is constructed, the ashes will be mixed in to the opening camp fire at the new Scout Reservation.

The purpose of the Boy Scouts of America, incorporated on February 8, 1910, and chartered by Congress in 1916, is to provide an educational program for boys and young adults to build character, to train in the responsibilities of participating citizenship, and to develop personal fitness. For more information on joining or volunteering in a Scouting program, contact The Boy Scouts of America, Colonial Virginia Council, at (757) 595-3356.

JAMAICA, Virginia (November 17, 2007) – Approximately 60 volunteers from the Coast Guard Sector Hampton Roads, responsible for operations in Virginia and the Eastern Shore of Maryland, participated in community service projects at Bayport Scout Reservation, a newly constructed camp and high adventure base located in Middlesex County, Virginia, owned and operated by the Boy Scouts of America Colonial Virginia Council. “As chair of the Business Volunteer Council of Hampton Roads, I am extremely proud of the volunteer work and leadership provided by the Coast Guard Sector at the Colonial Coast Scout Reservation. This project was one of nine held throughout the Hampton Roads community as part of National Family Volunteer Day, sponsored by Disney and the Points of Light Foundation and was organized by the Business Volunteer Council of Hampton Roads,” said Sandy Donaldson, Community Relations Coordinator for Ferguson Enterprises, headquartered in Newport News, Virginia. The Business Volunteer Council promotes employee volunteerism and shares best practices throughout the year.”

“Despite the distance from our office, roughly 70 plus miles, I was overjoyed with the response from our people to jump in,” said Captain Patrick B Trapp, United States Coast Guard. The volunteers, which consisted of active duty and retired military, civilian employees, and family, performed a variety of projects, including: pressure washing a 1,200 foot pier, cleaning of the multi-purpose center, constructing tent platforms, clearing fallen trees, creating hiking paths, and winterizing the outdoor pool.

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act signed into law

by Corporate Communications
3/16/09

» e-mail a response to this article

A recent bill, signed into law on Feb. 17, means big business potential for Ferguson. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act targets investments towards key areas that will save or create jobs immediately while simultaneously laying the groundwork for long-term economic growth.

"The recovery act provides a multitude of opportunities for Ferguson across our entire branch network and Business Groups," said Jim Feltman, Chief Marketing Officer for Wolseley's North American Division. "Our primary goal is to make sure our associates understand what the stimulus package means and that they can share this information with our customers to help them grow their businesses. By educating our associates on how customers can benefit, we continue to provide value-added services that set our company apart and drive sales into our locations."

The act is intended to stimulate the American economy in the wake of an economic recession brought on by the sub-prime mortgage crisis and the resulting credit crunch that has stagnated U.S. markets.

The ARRA poses a unique opportunity for Wolseley's North American Division to increase market share in the U.S. through several provisions in the act. McGraw Hill and Engineering News Record estimate that of the \$787 billion allocated, roughly 17 percent of total spending will be directed to new construction projects including public works, healthcare facilities and educational system upgrades and investments.

Cathy Williams, WNA Business Diversity and Government Administration Manager, will host a series of Live Meetings to provide associates with an overview of the stimulus package and how to work with the government.

"Our training will provide information on the General Services Administration, as well as the Department of Defense's e-Mall," said Cathy. "Our ultimate goal is to bring our branches up to speed on how to effectively work with the government and better understand the stimulus package."

Trainings will take place from 3 to 4 p.m. (EST) on the following dates:

To better understand what the ARRA means for you, Market Research has created a toolkit to break down the stimulus package and describe areas in which Ferguson can excel. Though it may take some time for the projects to come to bid stage, it is anticipated some will begin this year. Federal Agencies and investment in infrastructure including public works will be among the early recipients of funding. by Corporate Communications

» e-mail a response to this article

Earth Day, held each year on April 22, offers an excellent opportunity for branches to highlight Ferguson's extensive green product offerings. Earth Day began in the 1970s, and has grown over the years as people become more aware of their impact on the environment. Now, more than ever, consumers are looking for simple ways to help the earth and their wallets.

The Ferguson Showroom in Fort Myers, Fla., will host Save Water America on Saturday, April 18, in conjunction with Earth Day. The event will highlight the latest green products and feature live demonstrations and green experts. Triple-licensed master plumber Ed Del Grande, author of the home improvement book "Ed Del Grande's House Call" and host of the "Ed the Plumber" show on the Do-It-Yourself Network, will be on hand to welcome customers and provide expert advice. Ed also serves as Kohler's national "how-to" expert spokesperson.

"This is the premier Earth Day event for Ferguson's Fort Myers location," said Susan Bennett, Showroom Manager for the Fort Myers location. "We look forward to opening our doors to our customers, not only to showcase the latest and greatest products designed to protect our environment, but also to share green knowledge with our customers so they may pass it on to their own clients."

Ferguson was recognized recently as the first Retail and Distributor WaterSense Partner of the Year by the Environmental Protection Agency. Ferguson received the award, in part, for our efforts to highlight the new PROFLO high-efficiency toilets and other water-saving devices.

Ferguson recognized by the Environmental Protection Agency

NEWPORT NEWS, VA — Ferguson, the country's largest wholesale distributor of plumbing supplies, was recognized as the first Retail and Distributor WaterSense Partner of the Year by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Ferguson is among four exceptional partners who earned this special distinction from the EPA for promoting water-efficiency awareness and taking actions in the last year.

Ferguson received the award, in part for their efforts to highlight the new PROFLO high efficiency toilets and other watersaving devices. Both Ferguson's customers and the nation's water resources benefit from this water-efficiency know-how. Ferguson carries a wide range of water efficient products and associates can help their customers select the best products that meet these standards.

"The demand for Green is rising dramatically and to continue to meet the needs of our customers, we need to bring additional focus to Green product education," said Jim Feltman, chief marketing officer for Wolseley's North America Division.

"These water stars are helping WaterSense transform the way Americans view and value our most precious liquid asset and, as a result, we are saving more and wasting less for future generations," said Benjamin H. Grumbles, EPA's assistant administrator for water.

WaterSense, a partnership program launched in 2006 by the EPA, seeks to protect the future of our nation's water supply by offering people a simple way to use less water.
